THE DAILY UNION BANNER.

VOL. I. SALISBURY, N. C., TUESDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1865. NO. 135

For the Banner.

FREDERICK, MD., Oct. 24, 1865.

Mr Mditor:—As I have been sojourning a few days, in this pleasant city, I send you an item which may be of interest to some in the Old North State—a list of the names of officers and soldiers from North Carolina, whose remains are resting quietly in the beautiful cemetery in this city. Except a few marked "unknown" each grave is designated by a neat, white head board, on which is the name, rank, and date of death of those who now, "after this fitful dream is o'er"—sleep well. May War's rude alarms never more disturb their sleeping dust!

I have heard of many noble deeds of kindness extended to Confederate soldiers by citizens of this place, and did space permit, would be pleased to mention some which I know, would thrill with gratitude, the hearts of many sorrowing ones, whose fathers, sons and brothers here found an untimely grave. Suffice it to say, all was done for the stranger—soldier which spmpathy could suggest or circumstances permit and the vases of beautiful flowers recently placed on some of the graves, indicate that the soldier-boy, who died far away from the "loved ones at home," is not forgotten by loving ones here.

Before closing this hasty epistle I will state that our townsman, Mr. W. R. Hunter, is here delivering a series of lectures to the Sunday Schools of the city. At his lecture on the Sabbath, the German Reformed church, the largest in the city, was densely crowded, some estimating the audience at fourteen hundred.

I have had the pleasure of meeting the gallant young Stokes, well known to many citizens of Salisbury, as this is his home. When more at leisure and more poetically inclined, I may give you a description of this beautiful section of Maryland with its [illegible] lovely vales. Yours truly,

ROWAN.

THREE YOUNG LADIES DROWNED BY THE SINKING OF A BOAT.

From the Peoria Ill. Democrat, Oct. 17.

One of the most shocking casualties by drowning which we have for a long time recorded, occurred on Saturday afternoon last at Spring Lake, about sixteen miles below Pekin. According to the statement of our informant, a family by the name of Clayton reside near the lake, and two young ladies from Iowa—relatives of the family and of the same name—were on a visit to them. On Saturday afternoon it was proposed to take a boat ride upon the lake, to which all joyfully assented, and a boat was procured which it was thought would answer the purpose, although old and leaky.—The party consisted of the two young ladies from Iowa, their cousins, two Misses Clayton, of Spring Lake, and another young lady by the name of Kane, together with a young man and boy by name of Clayton, also relatives, and another young man by the name of McLeon—in all eight persons.

The youthful party left the shore in the best possible spirits, with the expectation of enjoying a pleasant afternoon upon the water, little dreaming that in the short space of one hour three of their number, then in the bloom of health and happiness, would be in eternity.—When in about the middle of the lake the boat suddenly filled, and in less time than we are writing the paragraph, the party were floating upon the water. The boy managed to reach the shore, and young Clayton, by almost super human exertions, succeeded in saving his two sisters, although his endeavors were equally exerted to save the lives of all the young ladies, but were fruitless. McLean managed to reach the shore by swimming, but what exertions he made use of to save the lives of any of the party, is not known.

The bodies of the two Misses Clayton, from Iowa, together with that of Miss Kane, have been recovered. The two young ladies saved have since been quite low, owing to being [illegible] long in the water and the consequent excitement at the closing in such a melancholy manner of an afternoon devoted to pleasure. We have given the particulars, as hurriedly [illegible] to us by one who passed Spring Lake Saturday.

REMEMBER.

We make no claims to having been a Union man—after the war commenced we did all in our power for the Confederate cause but the people of this section of the State will remember that in the Fall of 1860, five years ago, when secession meetings were being held, we refused to participate in such meetings, and advised caution and moderation—we positively refused to vote for the first secession candidates brought out in this County. For our course then we were abused and denounced as a submissionist. We have no regrets for opposing the commencement of the war, neither do we regret the aid we gave the South after the war commenced. In 1860 we felt it our duty as a public man to use our influence to save the people from trouble and destruction, but after the strife commenced we felt bound to stand by our own section and do all we could to aid the Confederate cause.

And now, in 1865, in advising a support of Mr. Holden for Governor, we claim to be prompted by a sincere desire to promote the good of the people and prevent strife and discord. We have always been willing to let by gones be by gones. Since the close of the war Gov. Holden has shown a disposition to let by-gones be by-gones. By his wise management and conciliatory course, peace and quiet have reigned within our borders—no property has been libeled for confiscation—no man has been punished for his acts—everything seemed to be progressing harmoniously, until suddenly a bitter opposition to the Governor has been sprung, and the people are called upon to condemn and defeat him. The Convention gave a unanimous vote of thanks to the Governor and approved his course, and there appears to be no good reason for the violent opposition manifested to him within the last week.

Is strife and discord, and contention, to be engendered among the people of North-Carolina simply because two or three men have not been pardoned as soon as their friends thing they ought to have been? No man who has properly approached the Governor has been refused a kind and respectful hearing. He has not desired to see any of his fellow-citizens injured or their property confiscated. He has had the power to levy special taxes upon the excepted classes, even after they have been pardoned, but he has not done so. He still has that power, but has thus far refused to exercise it, and yet a great fuss is being kicked up in the State because he has not bowed down to a few individuals who think themselves worthy of peculiar favor and consideration.

In Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia strife has prevailed among the people since the close of the war—property has been sold under the confiscation act—but here in North Carolina we have been saved from such troubles by the intercession and good management of W. W. Holden. We ask the public to remember these things. Is it right to repudiate him now after he has led us so far out of our difficulties? We have heretofore opposed him, but we intend to vote for him now if no other man in this County does so, because we honestly believe that he can do more than any other man in the South to restore our people their ancient rights.

No man can truthfully say that we are actuated by party feeling, for since the commencement of the war we have voted for fifteen candidates, and twelve of the fifteen were old whigs. For the peace and quiet of our country we are still willing to let by-gones be by gones. If strife, retaliation and bitter feeling should prevail in the State hereafter, and United States troops kept over us, Holden will not be responsible for it, for since he has been Governor he has tried to prevent everything of the sort.

Charlotte Democrat.

A Most Ridiculous Argument.

The opposition newspapers in the State are publishing what they call a "Hidden Record." in which they are endeavoring to rake up all that can be found to the prejudice of that gentleman in his past political career. This is the sort of argument the opposition descends to in order to defeat him.

Suppose that test should be applied to every public man; who would stand before it? It is ridiculous to argue against a man's fitness for position because, having seen the errors of his past, he has effectually corrected them. If one is to be always censured for the faults committed under a conviction that he was doing right, there is little good in his trying to reform. True charity to the drunkard consists in trying to keep him sober, and not in unceasingly reminding him that he is a blackguard.

No matter what political error Gov. Holden may have committed in the past, he has proved himself right in the present. We are not voting for anything which can effect the years gone by. We are looking alone to the events of to-day with their bearing upon the future.

According to the orthodox rule, is we apply this reasoning to the people of North-Carolina, there are not men enough in the State, who would be eligible, to constitute a legislative quorum.

The very party which endorses Mr. Holden's opponent would, of necessity, fall beneath such a test, for, according to the ruling authorities, their errors in the past have been of the most damnable character.

Away with such ridiculous and contemptible arguments. If Gov. Holden's record as Executive of the State, under President Johnson's administration, is base, then blot out the past and elect him. If his rule in the State has been marked by courteous ability—and we contend it has—do honor to his worth and prove to the United States authorities that North-Carolina is in favor of conciliation and desires re-union as speedily as possible.—New Berne Times.

J. J. STEWART. EDITOR

ELECTIONS.

The Elections for Governor, Representatives to Congress, and Members of Assembly, Sheriffs and Clerks, will take place on Thursday, the 9th day of November, 1865.

National Union Andrew Johnson Ticket!

FOR GOVERNOR,

WILLIAM W. HOLDEN,

OF WAKE COUNTY.

FOR THE COMMONS,

DR. N. F. LUCKEY, AND
LUKE BLACKMER, ESQ.

A Ticket for the People to Unite On.

Dr. N. F. Lucky and Luke Blackmer, Esq., will be most heartily supported by their numerous friends for seats in the House of Commons at the next General Assembly of North Carolina.

MANY VOTERS.

STILL A NEW TICKET.

We publish to-day a ticket for the people to unite on. Dr. N. F. Lucky and Luke Blackmer, Esq. for the Commons. These gentlemen are too well known to require any recommendation from us. Suffice it to say, that they are the people's candidates and they will be elected.

If ever there was a time in the history of our State when such men were needed, men of ability and sterling patriotism was required, that time is now. The next Legislature will be the most important body that has assembled in North Carolina since '98. Our whole code of laws will be to revise; the negro question will be to settle, perhaps forever; two senators and our Supreme Court Judges will be to elect, &c. To do this well and effectually will require the purest patriots and the brightest intellects among us. We want no cross road politicians at this time—none but our best men. Let the people act wisely. There can, we hope, be no objection to the gentlemen whose names are announced above.

It is generally understood that F. E. SHOBER, Esq., will be a candidate for the Senate from Rowan and Davie.

We have no ticket of our own. We shall support the best men regardless of all party designations. The people's interest is our interest.

Certainties vs. Uncertainties.

Every one must feel satisfied that Gov. Holden enjoys the esteem, respect, and confidence of the President, and we have every reason to believe that his election will prove a strong point towards gaining re-construction. There is a very heavy Republican majority in both Houses of Congress. The current may run against re-admission unless we shall have satisfied them that we are prepared for its blessings. We lay claim to loyalty in the future and the claim may be a just one in our estimation, but we should look at the matter practically and so direct our energies as to satisfy Congress that we are loyal. They are strangers to us and strangers to our feelings. Opposition to those who command the confidence of the authorities, though in most, if not all cases growing out of personal dislikes engendered during the war, may, and the probability is, will be mistaken for factions opposition perhaps secret disloyalty. Gov. Holden's Union record has passed into judgment and duty and interest alike forbid that we should carp at the fiat or attempt a reversal of the decree. It is altogether an abstract question, in this contest, what Gov. Holden was at one time, or another—it is idle to investigate it—it is idle to discuss it and worse than idle to make it an issue. He is all right in Washington, and that it seems to us, is the main point.

Then why give up a certainty for an uncertainty? What evidence have we that Jonathan Worth, Esq., commands the unqualified confidence of the President. It is said that he was an ultra Union man before the State went out.—Who was more so than Gov. Holden?—The truth is that this amounts to nothing. The Northern people hold these very men responsible—they say such men, no matter when they fell into line, did wrong knowingly, whereas, the honest secessionists did wrong but unwittingly. If the President had needed or desired Mr. J. Worth's services, we guess he would have invited the gentleman to the Gubernatorial chair. Nor does he stand merely indifferent. He differs from the President in his views on a very important question. Indeed, we may safely infer from the President's dispatch, that he regards it as one of the new tests of Unionism.

Then is it not better, to use a homely phrase, "to take the bull by the horns" at once, and show by your votes that you mean what you say when you endorse the policy of the Administration. And we speak entirely to those who entertain strong animosities against Gov. Holden, when we ask of them if it is not better to bear these "ills"

"Than fly to others we know not of."

DR. RAMSAY AND THE TEST OATH.

"It is morally certain that no man will be admitted to a seat in the next Congress who does not take the oath regarded by existing laws."—N. Y. Times.

What is that oath? Its provisions to which the subject matter of this article refers are as follows:

And I do solemnly swear that I have never voluntarily borne arms against the United States since I have been a citizen thereof; that I have voluntarily given no aid, countenance, counsel or encouragement to persons engaged in armed hostility thereto; that I have neither sought, nor accepted, nor attempted to exercise the functions of any office whatever under any authority, or pretended authority, in hostility to the United States; that I have not yielded a voluntary support to any pretended government, authority, power or constitution within the United States, hostile or inimical thereto.

Can Dr. Ramsay take this oath? If Dr. Sloan can take it, we have understood and have every reason to believe.

Has Dr. Ramsay so soon forgotten that remarkable declaration made by him in a speech delivered in Murphy's Hall at this place, for the purpose of exciting the minds of the people in opposition to the Yankees and urging the young men to go to the front, "that the time had come for war! War to the knife and the knife to the hilt?"

What boots it to elect a man who can not take his seat? Was the utterance of such a declaration to a public assemblage, giving no aid, countenance, counsel, or encouragement" to the rebellion? If it is not, then we have studied the force and power of the English language to little purpose. It is like the case of a fight between individuals, when some one without participating in the duel, calls out fervently, "go it boys,—fight away." He is as guilty as the combatants themselves.

We have no doubt that Congress will decide that Dr. Ramsay is in a similar plight. It may be urged that the "countenance," etc. must be voluntary. But can it be doubted that it was voluntary? He was under no compulsion to express in strong and emphatic terms such sentiments. If he advised the people to a course he thought wrong and criminal, he is unworthy of this or any other office.

Then, we ask, why should the people at a time like this, be burdened with the expense of another election? In the article from which we have quoted, it is declared that the test oath will be required beyond all question.

We are an earnest advocate for reconstruction, and we feel it our duty as public journalists to warn the people of all dangers and obstructions in the path. If Dr. Sloan can take the oath, we learn it and take his seat.

No man, says Greville, was ever so much deceived by another as by himself.

SILISBURY, Oct. 30th, 1865.

Mr. Editor:—I notice in the Banner of this morning that Dr. N. F. Luckey and myself have been placed in nomination, by many friends, for a seat in the House of Commons of the next General Assembly. I feel very thankful for this expression of favor and confidence, and while I am ever ready to serve my friends in whatever capacity I may, I most respectfully decline to allow my name to be used as a candidate for reasons of a private nature.

Could I consent to be a candidate now, there is no gentleman with whom I would more desire to have my name associated than Dr. N. F. Lucky.

I would suggest that Luke Blackmer, Esq., or M. L. Holmes be placed in nomination in my stead. This will make a ticket that all parties can vote for consistently, and with the assurance that they will be ably and well represented.

Yours &c,

W. H. CRAWFORD.

Why have the people not been consulted in this attempt of the secessionists and disappointed office seekers, to get up opposition to Gov. Holden's administration, and divide the national Union party in the State?

The movement originated in the Convention, by those hostile to the administration policy.

The true and tried friends of Conservatism, who were solicited to lend their names and their influence to this movement declined. Neither Reade, nor Dockery, nor Brown, nor Donnell, nor Pool, nor Thompson, nor Boyden, nor Moore, men, among others, who enjoy the confidence and affection of the great mass of the people, could be induced to lend their influence to this suicidal policy.

Without any popular demonstration, whatever, to Mr. Worth alone is due the credit of such excessive impressibility, as to yield to the seductive approaches of such politicians as Winston, and Ferebee, and Manly, and Howard, and Bragg, and Mordecai, et id omne genus.—N. C. Standard.

WHO OWNS ANDY JOHNSON?—Quite a contest is going on in the North for the ownership of the President. He is wooed and claimed by both parties, and each belabors the other with the vehement animosity of rival lovers. Looking from these calm regions on the angry struggle, we have come to the conclusion that, instead of Andy Johnson belonging to either of the parties in the North, they belong to him. In this case, it is the mountain that has come to Mahomet, and not Mahomet who has gone to the mountain.—Richmoad Whig.

NEW MILITARY COMMISSION.

The Military Commission of which Lt. Col. R. K. Miller, was President, which has been in session for some time past, has we learn, been disolved, and a new commission convened composed of the following officers:

Lt. Col. W. E. Penny, 130th Ind. V., I. President.
Capt. George Crouse, 130th Ind. V., I.
Capt. W. H. Mayes, " " " "
1st Lt. E. A. Harris, 128th " " "
" " John Roger, 130th " " "
Capt. Dwight Fraser, 128th " " "
Judge Advocate.

We are much pleased to see that Capt. Fraser is retained as Judge Advocate, as his high character and excellent at tainments assure a fair trial to those so unfortunate as to be tried.

Lt. Col. R. K. Miller 128th Ind. Volunteers.

We regret to learn that this very estimable gentlemen and high toned officer is about to leave us. He has been ordered to the command of the sub-district of West N. C. Headquarters at Morganton. Col. Miller, has been serving for some time past as President of the Military Commission, and we hear from the gentlemen of the bar, the highest praises of his unvarying courtesy urbanity and fairness. He combines with these qualities a quick astute intellect and a clear and comprehensive judgment. We wish him a pleasant sojourn in the pleasant little village of Morganton.

Mrs. Partington says she did not marry her second husband because she loved the male sex, but because he was the size of her first protector, and would wear his clothes out.

Teacher.—Now, boys, this is a whale. Can you tell me what the whale does with all the water he swallows? Smart boy (whose father is a pawnbroker)—Please, sir, he spouts it.

Some one telling an Irishman that a fellow had eaten ten saucers of ice cream; whereupon Pat shook his head. "So you don't believe it?" With a nod, Pat answered: "I believe in the crame, but not in the saucers."

Great Southern Mail Route.

Carrying United States Mail and Adams' Express through entirely by rail to Washington City, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and Lynchburg via the Orange and Alexandria and Virginia Central Railroads. 411 miles continuous Rail, no staging, trains run to Baltimore and Ohio depot

AT WASHINGTON CITY

TWICE DAILY.

The Orange and Alexandria Railroad having been put in complete repair, are now running two trains daily between Washington City and Lynchburg, connecting with the Baltimore and Ohio railroad at Washington, the Virginia and Tennesse railroad at Lynchburg, and at Gordonsville with the Virginia Central railroad for Staunton and Richmond.

Passengers taking this line pass in full view of the various battle fields along the line of the Virginia Central Railroad, between Richmond and Gordonsville, and the famous battle fields of Manassas, Bristoe and Cedar Mountain, on the Orange and Alexandria Railroad, and may rely upon making close and regular connections with the lines indicated Elegant cars are run upon this line, and every accommodation furnished to make the passengers comfortable.

Through passengers arriving in Richmond by the Virginia Central, Richmond and Danville, and Richmond and Petersburg Railroads, will find Garbers & Co's omnibuses to transport them between depots. Passengers have ample time to dine and sup at Gordonsville, and breakfast and sup at Virginia Central depot.

Trains leave Richmond, daily, (except Sunday) at 7:15 a. m., and 7:15 p. m.; on Sundays, at 7:15 p. m., only, making close and sure connections at Washington city with the Baltimore and Ohio railroad for the following points:

Baltimore,	Logansport, Ohio,
Philadelphia,	Louisville, Ky.,
New York,	La Crosse, Wis.,
